

"Shared Work, Shared Vision" Community of Practice DE Transition Conference April 3, 2012 – Sheraton Dover, DE - 8:00am-3:15pm

Keynote Speaker - LeDerick Horne:

Poet, Disability Advocate, & Entrepreneur

As a child, LeDerick Horne believed he did not have much of a future. Despite being classified as having a neurological impairment in the third grade, LeDerick has become a successful spoken word poet, playwright, motivational speaker, entrepreneur, and advocate. Using his gift for spoken word poetry as a teaching tool, LeDerick has been recognized across the country as a motivational speaker and advocate for people with disabilities. After graduating with honors from New Jersey City University in 2003 with a BA in Mathematics and a minor in Fine Art, LeDerick released Rhyme Reason and Song (2005), an album of his poetry set to music, and he co-created and performed in New Street Poets, a spoken word play addressing gentrification's affect on urban culture.

The play was first staged in 2005 at the Tony Award winning Crossroads Theater in New Brunswick, NJ. New Street Poets received great critical acclaim at the New York City International Fringe Festival in 2007, and is currently touring throughout the northeast. LeDerick has presented to groups from the students and faculty at Harvard University to the youth and staff at correctional facilities. His message addresses increasing confidence, academic performance, self-determination, and self-advocacy by challenging conventional teaching styles and asking his audience to look beyond negative labels.

LeDerick is currently the board chair of Project Eye-to-Eye, a national nonprofit which provides mentoring programs for students labeled LD/ADHD. In the spring to 2011 he released his second collection of poetry called Black and Blue. He is collaborating with the writers of New Street Poets to develop a new spoken word play called Commencement which addresses the stereotypes that shape our education system. LeDerick has facilitated workshops, delivered keynote presentations, and spoken to thousands of students, teachers, and service providers about his experiences.

with disabilities through a sequential delivery of specific transition service components beginning in early high school, and the braiding of resources of transition partners. The MSTC model is student driven and is comprised of key components such as numerous Discovery activities, individualized Work-Based Experiences, at least one Paid Inclusive Employment experience prior to exiting school, emphasis on Family Involvement and Participation as well as linking transitioning youth to community resources.

Four Youth Leaders and Project coordinator will discuss how they have set and achieved goals and have a greater understanding of their personal strengths and how to get support for areas of assistance. The hallmarks of the program and the new website (www.imdetermined.org) will be shared with participants.

Project SEARCH

Project SEARCH has come to Delaware and The Division of Vocational Rehabilitation has begun a Project SEARCH site in Delaware at Christiana Care Medical Center in Newark. The Project SEARCH High School Transition Program is a unique, business led, one year school-to-work program that takes place entirely at the workplace. Total workplace immersion facilitates a seamless combination of classroom instruction, career exploration, and onthe-job training and support through internships or worksite rotations. The goal for each student participant is competitive employment. The program provides real-life work experience combined with training in employability and independent living skills to help youths with significant disabilities make
